Gerald Boarman Is New Principal At Eleanor Roosevelt High School

by Kelly Harmon

Gerald Boarman, principal of Eleanor Roosevelt High School, considers himself to be "a no-nonsense, firm, fine, caring, principal willing to listen and have dialogue with student input."

In an interview last week at Eleanor Roosevelt High School, the new principal said: "I'm interested in student concerns, appeals and opinions. I'm open and honest, and I won't tell you something that can't be done, can be done."

His office is crowded with numerous academic and sport trophies. Lee Iacocca's book is propped visibly on a shelf, Redskins paraphernalia and family photos personalize his office. Gerald Boarman is a principal truly comfortable in his surroundings — but rarely will you find him there. More often, he roams the hallways in order to get to know the students better. "I make it a point to meet with students," he says. "You won't find me in this office. If you do, you're very lucky."

Boarman's policies are related to what's best for the student. He calls his style "school-based management," and expects input from parents, teachers and students. So far, he's not been disappointed: "I want teachers and parents to help make decisions," he said. "On back-to-school night (in September) 1400 members of the Parent-Teacher-Student Association (PTSA) turned out. They're very active in the local and state-wide PTSA."

Boarman enjoys working with young people. "I think the public has a misconception of what kids are like today. Kids are great. Very few are involved in the kinds of things that you read."

He continued, "These students are going to be the people who touch the future. They're going to take up where their fathers and forefathers left off."

"I see a student body that has a great deal of spirit," Boarman said proudly. "They're involved in student government, in being leaders and participators, and they are involved in making decisions."

Boarman was offered the position of principal by the school superintendent, who felt Boarman matched the needs of the school.

"I live and have been educated in Prince Georges County. I have a better perspective than someone else may have," Boarman agreed. Boarman taught history at the school when it first opened in 1976. At that time his Advanced Placement (AP) History class was the only AP class in the school.

He is a three time graduate of the University of Maryland, College Park. He received his B.A. degree in history, his M.A. in history/education and his Ph.D. in education administration.

"My aim is to meet the needs of the diverse student body here," he said. "This includes academics, work, vo-tech, guidance, and college selection. There are 87 clubs here, including a chess club and an It's Academic team. If we don't have it, we can get it."

He added, "Success won't depend on me. It depends on getting parents, students and teachers moving in the right direction."

One way that Boarman has made it easier to meet the student's needs has been to break down the 2400 students into smaller units called "neighborhoods." Each of the seven neighborhoods is headed by an administrator who meets the needs of that particular group.

Boarman states that the neighborhood units enable the faculty and staff to work more efficiently. "It's easier to deal with fewer people," he said.

"Anytime you're working with this many students, you develop the risk of not meeting their needs. The neighborhoods enable those needs to be met by creating a small-community atmosphere and by removing the confusion of one person having to deal with so many."

One perk about having so many students is that the school can offer more programs and courses, according to Boarman. He says that he is in a position "to effectuate change that takes place in an organization for the improvement of instruction or education for kids."

Controversies

Gerald Boarman has had very few problems since taking on the job of principal in August. But two that stirred up some controversy around the school were the firing and hiring of a football coach, and the recent education press conference.

According to Boarman, last year's football coach was fired because of differing philosophies of his and other faculty members. Boarman, who was supportive of bringing him back, re-opened the hiring process.

"I rehired the original coach," said Boarman, "because he was the best candidate for leading young men."

Boarman's second challenge was receiving the poor press coverage of the meeting of Democrats who spoke at Eleanor Roosevelt several weeks ago on the topic of education. The Prince Georges Journal wrote, "Eleanor Roosevelt Staged a Press Conference," according to Boarman.

"It didn't seem from our perspective that they wanted to interview who was involved," said Boarman. "The Journal's story was outlandish and sensationalistic. The sad thing is that the reporter never interviewed the participants. The staff and kids helped me to endure."

Boarman blamed the poor newspaper coverage on jealousy. "Because of the prestige and calibre of the students (Eleanor Roosevelt) puts out, we are constantly looked upon to find some- See BOARMAN, pg. 9

Schrom Hills Park Boasts New Statue

by Pat Scully

The white-tail deer stood on a rise, gazing at the mist-shrouded trees. He seemed oblivious to the homeward-bound traffic beneath his feet on Hanover Parkway and to the little crowd of city officials, employees and other interested parties huddling under tents, gathered for his unveiling.

The work of sculptor Richard Zandler, the deer is the first element of Schrom Hills Park to reach fruition. When the park is developed the statue will be moved from its present location across from the Hunting Ridge entrance to a permanent site within the park. The statue is the first piece of public art donated to the city and probably is the first new artwork since the mother-and-child statue and Center School reliefs.

Commissioned and donated by Michael T. Rose, the statue was unveiled on the chill, drizzly evening of October 18. Present for the dedication were the sculptor and his family, Rose, Prince Georges Arts Commission representative Anne Palumbo, Mayor Gil Weidenfeld, councilmembers Antoinette Bram, Joseph Isaacs and Thomas X. White, Hunting Ridge Association President James Foy, and many members of the city staff.

The public works department had been instrumental in the placement of the statue. Two public works employees, Victor Kirk and Steve May fought a losing battle to keep chairs dry for the guests before crossing Hanover Parkway to lift the covering sheets off the statue.

bers of the Federation, delegates Eunice E. Coxon and Marvin Holmes, Jr. and Konrad Herling attended the meeting.

Jo Mimms-Bolden, two-term outgoing president appointed Marvin Holmes, CFG president, a member of the nominating committee to select the officers and board members for election at the December meeting.

Improve Election Process

To the Editor:

The recent election was, unusually long. Until this year, campaigns traditionally began during the Labor Day weekend and lasted until election day which was two or three weeks later. This year campaigning commenced at about the same time but lasted over two months.

Each of the candidates apparently spent huge amounts of money. Most of the nine had sizable ads in the News Review beginning weeks before the election. The issue of November 2 was a record 28 pages. This is up from 24 pages of two years ago. The 28 pages were so filled with ads, official notices and other political items that it was difficult to read much beyond the first page.

There are two ways of improving our biennial council contests: Shorten the period of campaigning. Limit the amount of campaign spending. We could start now by requiring all candidates in 1991, to submit statements listing their expenditures.

Bob S. Auerbach

Editor's Note: According to City Clerk Gudrun Mills, candidates now must file campaign contribution reports showing any receipts exceeding $25. Mills says that to require a listing of campaign expenditures would necessitate a change in the City Charter.

APPRECIATION

To the Editor:

The support that I received in the recent city election from all areas of Greenbelt, was most gratifying. My sincere appreciation to all those who worked on my behalf and to the voters who turned out in record numbers.

The issues and challenges confronting Greenbelt in the next two years are formidable. The council will need your continued support and your advice.

Thomas X. White

In Memoriam

Mike Spione, you will always live in our hearts. We will always remember your extended hand to help those in need, your kind, loving friendship that lifted our spirits, and for being a friend to animals.

GRATITUDE

To the Editor:

I would like to express my profound gratitude to the voters who supported me and to the many great people who worked on my campaign. This was a team effort, and I could never have attempted this without you.

I'm proud of our strong showing and the constructive role we played in the campaign. It has been a privilege to take part in this election, and an honor to have the assistance and support of so many old and new friends. In that respect, I feel like a real winner.

Thanks again to all those who worked so hard on my campaign and to the many voters who gave me your support. I am forever in your debt.

Ruth Kastner

P.S. And thanks to Dorothy Pyles for keeping us warm with coffee and brownies on election day!

Special Thanks

To the Editor:

Special thanks to the individual who found my wallet on Ridge Road on November 9 and returned it to me intact the next day.

Dead Tabby Sought For Rabies Testing

The Prince Georges County Health Department is advising the motorist involved in an accident with a gray and white tabby cat in Bowie on Monday, November 6, 1989 to contact the agency's Communicable Disease Control Office. The Health Department is attempting to assess the possibility of exposure to rabies.

At approximately 9 p.m. on November 6, a motorist driving on Mitchellville Road in Bowie struck the gray and white tabby cat. The motorist, described as a white male with long dark brown hair and approximately 19 years of age, was driving a Malibu type car, white with a black top. A second motorist, a female, stopped to provide assistance and was bitten by the cat as she removed it from the roadway. The motorist that struck the cat subsequently agreed to remove the animal for burial.

The Health Department has to test the animal to determine if it had rabies, which is a fatal disease. The female motorist is beginning rabies post-exposure treatment. Health Department officials state that it is imperative that the male motorist contact the agency immediately.

CITY NOTES

Effective January 1, 1990, the city will be implementing a new policy aimed at preventing the abuse of drugs and alcohol by city employees. The policy provides for a pre-placement physical for prospective employees which will include drug screening. A positive result will prevent their hire. In addition the city may schedule periodic physical examinations of employees to include drug testing, and, after any accident or injury may require drug screening and/or blood alcohol testing. Those testing positive will be subject to disciplinary action, including dismissal.

The city, on the publication of this policy, stressed that it stands ready through its health plans and counselling services, to assist any employee who seeks help for substance abuse problems.

The city's various crews were active painting parking spaces, changing school flashers from Daylight Savings Time, planting flowerbeds and patching pot holes.

Chris Fleshman, a member of the public works department, spotted an outbreak of fire in the Hunting Ridge Condominiums, and with the assistance of another employee, Frank Kellaher, aided in evacuating the premises and helping to rescue a pet.

City employees Richard Mills and Dave Helmecki have, respectively, attended conferences in Minnesota on parks and grounds, and in Virginia on safety.

Special details continued the street cleaning program and erected a barricade along the pathway leading to the deer sculpture in Schrom Hills Park on Hanover Parkway.

The leaf collection program started on Monday, October 30. Details of this program have been given to television Channel 10 and also have been published in the News Review.

The horticulturist and his crew worked on the landscaping at the bus stop at Ridge and Crescent roads. They also cleaned and prepared beds for planting in Greenbelt East. The horticulturist gave a talk to the senior citizens on native plants at the Buddy Attick Park.

The building maintenance crew worked on the installation of the deer statue at Schrom Hills Park on Hanover Parkway; they installed electric service and lighting for the deer. A combination of all crews worked on the installation and landscaping around the deer statue.

The general crew worked on equipment preparing the salt spreader for the upcoming snow and ice season and cleaned catch basins and repaired pot holes. Members of this crew also assisted with the deer installation.

The parks crew placed seed in the area that was formerly the roadway into Buddy Attick Park. This road was abandoned several years ago, seeded several times and to date the crew has been unsuccessful in establishing grass due to habitual traffic patterns by the local residents.

Several Schools Given Local Spending Control

Two Greenbelt schools and three other schools that Greenbelt children attend are among the 60 additional schools which have been selected to begin conversion to school-based budgeting. They join 20 schools that completed the initial training and development phase last year. The process is designed to provide schools with local spending control over their own "Effective School" initiative.

The 60 newly selected schools, chosen in groups of 10 from each of the six administrative areas, will undergo a year-long planning process to develop specific budgeting plans for the 1990-91 school year. The schools are Greenbelt Center and Springhill Lake elementary schools in Greenbelt and Magnolia and Oakcrest elementary schools and Robert Goddard Middle school which are attended by Greenbelt children.

The long-range plan is to have all 171 schools operating within the school-based budgeting model, which provides principals and teachers wide latitude to manage their own instructional and personnel allotments to fund their School Improvement Plans.

Elder Alert Keeps Vital Information on Ice

by Kelly Harmon

The Elder Alert Protection System Campaign was kicked off at the American Legion Post 136. The protection system, which is sponsored by the Greenbelt Nursing Center and co-sponsored by Post 136, Older Adult Systems and Information Services (OASIS) and the Prince Georges County Fire Department, consists of a fluorescent orange tube, an emergency medical information form and an Elder Alert Protection System sticker.

The medical form is completed, put in the bright-colored tube and kept in the refrigerator. The sticker is then placed on the refrigerator door. In an emergency or fire, the sticker on the door will notify rescue personnel that life-saving information can be found in a tube in the refrigerator. The sheet also contains space for phone numbers of persons to contact.

According to Bret Stine, Administrator of the Greenbelt Nursing Center, a refrigerator is the ideal place to store the tube because the information can't be lost there and more importantly, a refrigerator is usually the last item to burn up in a fire.

"The naming of the program Elder Alert is unfortunate," added Stine. "In truth, the program benefits anyone with medical problems or who lives alone." Former Mayor Dick Pilski of Post 136, calls it a "Life-time Capsule."

The tube is of special importance for a number of reasons, according to Major P. Lamont Ewell of the Prince Georges Fire Department. "We don't have the luxury of time to discuss or wait to see if treatment works. Some symptoms make one illness look like another. We can more quickly assess the situation with the information (in the tube)."

Ewell considers the program to be a logical extension of "Project Identification" which already targets specific homes in the community as having handicapped or sick persons residing there. The information is logged into a computer for immediate access.

"I'm totally supportive," says Ewell. "Elder Alert gives more viable information in an emergency situation."

There is one drawback, though. "The system only works if the information is kept up to date."

POLICE BLOTTER

Based on Information
Released by the Greenbelt
Police Department

While issuing an equipment repair violation on a traffic stop on November 3, Officer Barry Byers saw a clear plastic baggie containing suspected marijuana on the car's seat. The driver of the vehicle adamantly professed that the suspected marijuana was not his but rather his passenger's.

The driver, a 30-year-old Greenbelt resident, was arrested for possession of CDS and possession of CDS paraphernalia. He appeared before the District Court Commissioner and was incarcerated on a $1500 bond pending trial.

On November 6 Officer Carl Schinner stopped a vehicle weaving from lane to lane on Kenilworth Avenue. Schinner smelled alcohol and ether and saw empty beer bottles in the vehicle. Field sobriety tests were given, all of which the driver failed. The suspect was told that she was under arrest for DWI, at which time she turned toward the vehicle and reached into her undergarment. Schinner grabbed her arm and the suspect began kicking and screaming, striking Schinner. The 25-year-old nonresident suspect was finally cuffed and arrested for DWI, DUI, CDS, unsafe lane change, possession of phencyclidine, resisting arrest, and battery of police officer. At the District Court Commissioner's office she was released on personal recognizance.

While on routine patrol on November 6, Corporal Dan Allwang observed that someone seated in the driver's seat of a vehicle appeared to be unconscious. A female approached the vehicle from the rear of Kangaroo Katie's and opened the door of the car. When Allwang asked for identification, the defendant opened her purse and threw out a paper towel. The officer checked the towel and found that it contained a hypodermic syringe. A search of the vehicle revealed an additional syringe, a homemade CDS pipe, and one plastic baggie containing a white powdery substance. Traces of the powder field-tested positive for cocaine. The 23-year-old nonresident female was arrested for possession of CDS paraphernalia (hypodermic syringe). She was incarcerated on $5000 bond.

On November 7 Officer Ronnie Walter stopped a car for failure to give the required signal of intention to turn. When Walter approached the vehicle to ask for the driver's license and registration, he detected the odor of marijuana coming from within the vehicle. Officer Moreland approached the vehicle from the passenger's side and observed the front-seat passenger attempting to shove something under the seat. For his safety, Moreland opened the passenger door and observed the suspect attempting to conceal a pipe, the type commonly used to smoke marijuana. The passenger was placed under arrest, and Moreland then searched the vehicle for additional violations of controlled dangerous substance, at which time he located another pipe under the passenger's seat. Both pipes contained residue of suspected marijuana. Also found in the vehicle were two plastic baggies containing a green leafy substance which on field tests tested positive for marijuana. Two male nonresidents, aged 18 and 21, were arrested and charged with possession of CDS and released by the District Court Commissioner on personal recognizance pending trial.

Disorderly Conduct

The police were asked to respond to a disorderly person incident at the Greenbelt post office. When Officer Dowling arrived, he learned that the woman had started yelling at the postal employees because they would not accept her personal check without any matching identification; she had been asked several times to calm down because she was disturbing the customers and the employees; that the suspect turned to leave the post office taking the stamps that she had originally requested without paying for them; and that she was instructed to return the stamps but she just said "no." Dowling arrested the 28-year-old nonresident suspect and transported her to headquarters. She was taken before a District Court Commissioner and released on personal recognizance pending a court trial.

On November 8, at around 5:15 p.m., a male driver traveling eastbound on Greenbelt Road tried to make a lane change near Eleanor Roosevelt High School and nearly hit a white Beretta. The driver of the Beretta then tailgated the first driver to the intersection of Greenbelt Road and Mandan Road, where both drivers stopped for a red light. The driver of the Beretta got out of his car, reached by the front seat and pulled out an object. The first driver fled to the Shell Mart parking lot on Greenbelt Road. The driver of the Beretta followed and again got out of his car, but this time he reached into his shirt as if to pull out a weapon. Driver number one fled the scene. The Beretta was a sports version, with wide tires and rally package. Its driver was described as a white male, age 30, 5'11", 190 lbs., with long brown hair, a scraggly beard, and wearing an untucked brown plaid flannel shirt. He also had a sailor hat with an unknown pattern on top.

Thefts and Robberies

When responding to a radio call that a shoplifter was in custody at the Ross Clothing/Apparel store in Greenway Shopping Center on November 6, Officer George Mathews was advised by the assistant manager that in fact an armed robbery had just taken place, and that the male suspect had fled the store on foot in an unknown direction. Apparently the suspect had entered the store, approached an assistant manager, showed him a handgun and said, "Let's go to your office." After they walked to the office, the suspect demanded money. The assistant manager complied with the demand and was then told to lie down on the floor, where he was tied up by the suspect. The suspect then went to the leather goods area, picked up four leather jackets he had tried on previously and walked over to the cashier's booth as if to purchase the jackets. The cashier walked away from the register and told one of the clerks that she thought the suspect was acting in a suspicious manner. The suspect got impatient waiting for the cashier and left the store. Later it was discovered that the suspect had abducted a female operating a 1984 Ford Escort and had her drive him to the Landover area from the Greenway Center. The suspect is described as a black male, late 30s to early 40s, 5'11", 160 lbs., brown eyes, with close-cropped black hair, wearing a grayish green suit, white shirt and gold wire-rimmed glasses.

On November 8, at approximately 3:30 p.m., a residential armed robbery took place in the 7200 block of Mandan Road. The residents were confronted by two white males armed with semi-automatic handguns. The gunmen were wearing stocking masks and gloves, and appeared to be in their twenties. They tied the residents up, left them in an upstairs room, and then ransacked the rest of the house, stealing an as yet undetermined amount of property. They also pulled the phone wires out of the wall before they left, apparently by motor vehicle.

On November 9 a robbery occurred prior to the opening of the store Linens 'N Things. An assistant manager and clerk were confronted by two men, one of whom was armed with a semi-automatic handgun. The suspects ordered the employees into the rear of the store, tied them up, and escaped with an undeter-

County School Closing

Decisions concerning early morning school closings or late openings due to snow or ice are generally made by 5:15 a.m. by the Superintendent of Schools. An announcement is then provided to local radio and television stations in the Washington and Baltimore area.

Parents should keep aware of weather conditions and forecasts and be prepared to listen for the news first thing in the morning. They should not call school mined amount of money. The suspects were seen leaving the rear of the shopping center and getting into a small champagne-color late-model Chrysler car. After the suspects left, one of the clerks managed to free herself and contact the police. The suspects are described as follows: (1) a black male, 18-19 years old, 5'7", 175 lbs., black hair, wearing a navy blue sweat shirt, jeans, tennis shoes and carrying a semi-automatic weapon; (2) black male, 18-19 years old, 150 lbs., black hair, wearing jeans and tennis shoes.

administrative offices and schools or expect any other kind of announcement. If no announcement is made, parents should assume that all schools are open and operating on time.

If schools are opened one hour late, then all schedules for buses and opening times proceed on a one-hour delayed basis.

However, if schools open two hours late, then all opening times proceed on a two-hour delayed basis and some programs are automatically cancelled. A two-hour delayed opening automatically cancels the morning and afternoon kindergarten programs, the Headstart program, and the Pre-kindergarten program. The two-hour delay also cancels all bus transportation for school programs that require bus transportation prior to noon. The two-hour delay automatically cancels all field trips scheduled prior to 11:45 a.m.

When schools are closed all day, all other activities are also cancelled, and the buildings are not available for after-school activities by private or other public organizations.

Nine and Under Soccer Team Mid-Season Update

by Ken Sanchez

Week Three, and once again Greenbelt's team was on the road. This time to neighboring Berwyn Heights. The game was highly anticipated due to the fact that some of their school mates played for the opposition. It was another hard fought game. The halfbacks, Nicholas, Patrick Kenny, and Terry provided many scoring opportunities.

Once again the team had run up against a goalie equal to the task. After a scoreless first period the team switched to some of the scoring techniques practiced during the week. Entering the second period, wings, Elizabeth, Joey, Brendan, and Matt Hall kept the ball in the center of the goalie box. Taking advantage of this the forwards, Jason Welsh, Joshua, William, Jason Brooks, and Sima provided the punch needed. They were able to move the ball into scoring position many times by terrific teamwork, through the final three periods.

Time was running out, the score stood 3-2 for Greenbelt. Berwyn Heights mounted a charge towards Greenbelt's goal; working past the halfbacks, and fullbacks wasn't easy, but, somehow they managed. Berwyn Heights had a number of shots on goal but Jason D'eramo stopped them every time. The game was down to less than a minute. The referee awarded Berwyn Heights a direct penalty kick. During this type of penalty, it's the goalie against the player attempting to score. However, the goalie can not move until the ball has been kicked. This is real tough for the goalie! All the players moved out of the goalie area, the referee blew his whistle and action began. The opponent attempted his shot, it was wide and to the right.

But wait, the referee had blown his whistle again, the goalie had moved, the referee awarded another shot on goal. Once again wide and to the right. The score remained 3-2 and time was down to 15 seconds, with Greenbelt now having a goal kick. Greenbelt fullbacks Matt Pelfrey, Charlie, and Billy kicked the ball out of the area, keeping the opponent from scoring and preserving another victory. What a game and what a finish!

Heavy Mental Videos Available at Library

The Prince Georges County Memorial Library System has received 23 videocassettes, valued at $7,000, from the John D. and Catherine T. MacArthur Foundation.

The videos focus on five themes: health, profiles of MacArthur Fellows, peace and international cooperation, world environment and resources and special grants supporting cultural and community activities.

Among the videos in the collection are "Atomac Cafe", a hilarious, chilling and sarcastic look at Cold War atom bomb hysteria; "Squatters", the story of poor people in Philadelphia who illegally inhabit, renovate and gain legal ownership of abandoned houses; and "Bravo, Gloria!" which challenges stereotypes of mental retardation by profiling 32-year-old Gloria Lehnhoff.

Call the library's Audiovisual Services Division at 699-9656 to find out about checking out the tapes.

Comets Win Tournament

by Joe Timer

The Greenbelt Comets traveled to Virginia Beach for a Columbus Weekend Soccer Tournament that was played under ideal weather conditions. Greenbelt won this Fall soccer classic in impressive style, winning all four of their tournament games, scoring a total of 16 goals and yielding only three goals.

Saturday's first game was a hard-fought contest against a strong (first division) local team — the Hampton Hawks. Both teams had scoring opportunities during the first half, but it was Greenbelt that scored late in the period on a shot by Gregg Repole. That momentum continued into the second half as the Comets scored two more goals. Etim Edim scored both goals with assists from Miguel Pereira and Robert Ramirez. During the last nine minutes, the Hawks played aggressive soccer, scoring two goals in seven minutes and frantically attempting to tie the game. The Comets won 3-2.

In the second game, the Comets played the other host team—the Hampton Blackhawks. Greenbelt scored midway through the first half and again at the 29-minute mark, for a 2-0 lead at the game's mid-point. Each team scored a goal in the second half, resulting in a 3-1 final score.

On Sunday, the Greenbelt Comets returned for the final two games against the Fort Lee Travel Club and the Arlington Fury. Any doubts that the team was distracted by the festive atmosphere of Virginia Beach was quickly dispelled as the Comets scored 75 seconds into the game. With two penalty kicks midway through the first half, the Comets were enroute to a 5-0 victory. The team's offensive prowess was accentuated by effective team passing that stretched the defense and maintained continuous pressure on Fort Lee and the Comet's fourth opponent — the Arlington Fury. Greenbelt's momentum carried over to the fourth game as the Comets scored three minutes into the game and again at the 10-minute mark. Three second-half goals coupled with a solid defense resulted in a 5-0 final score.

Etim Edim (8 goals, 1 assist) and Miguel Pereira (5 goals, 1 assist) led all scorers. Goals were also scored by Gregg Repole (1 goal, 2 assists), Jay Blavatt (1 goal, 1 assist) and Reuben Jackson (1 goal). The following players each recorded one assist: Daryl Harrington, Jason Everhart, Craig Halper, Jason Ziegler and Robert Ramirez.

On accepting the Championship trophy, Coach Pete Repole praised his defensive unit, whose outstanding play yielded only three goals in four games. That unit consisted of Jamie Despres, Peter Timer, Raphael Mingo, Jason Everhart and Kevin Hackett. Most shots that penetrated the defense were stopped by the adept play of goalie Jason Harbin.

The Greenbelt Comets are sponsored by Springhill Lake Apartments as well as Three Brothers Pizza, Capital Office Park and Princeton Electric Co.

Soccer News

by Sue Cornelius

The 13 year old soccer team did it again and they did it at home at Braden Field, too. They are now 2-0 and it is a well deserved record. They played a talented Lewisdale team on Sept. 25 to a proud Greenbelt audience. Jenny Meetre scored the first goal of the game with an assist from her sister Sarah. Scott Lube scored the second Greenbelt goal, but his third goal was so beautifully executed, it would make the pro's weep!! Kiarash Firouzi crossed the ball from right wing with exact precision to Scott, who headed it in much to the goalies surprise.

As usual, Morgen Ahearn and Jonathan Murray played controlled strong defense, letting up only one goal.

Neysan Sturdivant was very impressive as halfback in the first half, and as "volunteer goalie" in the second half.

thing wrong. "Being a principal is a fifteen hour a day job," according to Boarman. "It's hard for outside people to know that. I stay in the position because of the immediate rewards. If one kid gets turned around, it's enough to keep you going."

Boarman attributes his success in keeping with a demanding job to his wife, who is a teacher at Thomas Pullen Middle School. "My family supports me," he said simply. "And I involve them in my work. It's the only way."

Boarman taught Advanced Placement (AP) U.S. History when Eleanor Roosevelt opened in 1976. At the time it was the only AP class at the school. He left to become an administrative assistant at Northwestern High School. Later he served as vice principal at Bladensburg and Francis Scott Key Junior High Schools. For the last five years, Boarman has been principal at Oxon Hill Middle School.

Bus & Train Geometry.

Greenbelt to Foggy Bottom-GWU.

Does getting to Foggy Bottom-GWU from Greenbelt throw you a curve? Well, consider this angle. Metrobus to Metrorail.

We can get you where you want to go with no geometry problems. All you have to do is catch the R-11 or R-15 Metrobus. That will get you into the New Carrollton Metro station in no time flat. From there, it's just a few minutes on the Orange Line and you are at Foggy Bottom-GWU.

It's that simple. And when you take Metrobus to Metrorail, you can leave the parking cost and worry behind. You'll also save wear and tear on your car.

So next time you're wondering how to get around, no matter where you're headed, remember this simple axiom. Sometimes the shortest and most convenient distance between two points is Metrobus.

One of these buses will get you there in no time flat:

R-11 Beltway Plaza/New Carrollton Metro (60¢)
R-15 Greenbelt/New Carrollton Metro (60¢)

For other buses to the New Carrollton Metro station or anywhere else, call

30's Music Delights Seniors

by Pearl Siegel
On Friday, November 3, the participants in the third program of "Explorations Unlimited" were treated to a delightfully nostalgic experience at the Greenbelt Youth Center. Betty Timer enthusiastically led the group down a magical, musical memory lane as she presented "Music of the 30's".

Many recordings were played including original releases featuring the artists who introduced or were identified with those songs. Caught up in the spirit, the audience was soon happily singing along with Bing Crosby, Hoagy Carmichael, Judy Garland, Al Jolson and other popular artists of that era.

The applause was loud for a great program and there were eager requests for more of the same. For the Winter "Explorations Unlimited" Series, Timer has agreed to present another session on music.
